

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

Entered at the Post Office at Barre as Second Class Matter.

Published every week-day afternoon.
Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.
Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

FRIDAY, JULY 16, 1909.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

5,125

"Jim" Hill says Prosperity is coming. Hold your hats, everybody!

Although far removed from it, Roosevelt hasn't forgotten Predatory (spelled with a big P) Wealth.

"Poor old Mr. Weston" doesn't fit the man who has walked across the continent in 100 days even though he is 71 years.

Great Britain seems to have unusual casualties in operating submarines in times of peace. In fact, the entire navy is being followed with ill luck.

Another indication that the Cubans are becoming Americanized; a wealthy young Cuban who spent all his allowance chasing an actress ended the chase by shooting himself. You might fit the case to a great many Americans.

The Montpelier Journal calls attention to a distressing lack of taste in this "tag day" mania when Ticonderoga, N. Y., seized upon its biggest day of the tercentenary week as a grand good opportunity to increase the begging receipts. That day there were a great many strangers in Ticonderoga, and everybody was approached and importuned to give, give, give. Even the president of the United States was not immune from attack by the "tag day" solicitors. It reminds us pointedly of the act of a minister in inviting an organization to attend church in a body and then passing the contribution box among the guests.

A Montpelier alderman, Deady of the sixth ward, had an unusual complaint to make to his conferees at their last meeting. Among his complaints are these told by a newspaper reporter: "He claimed he had been unjustly treated, that frequently he did not know what was being done, that committees make reports without considering him and that when it was stated that the street committee were in favor of Mr. Clark concerning here that he was not seen about the matter and knew nothing about it until after Clark had commenced work, that when the tax for running the city government was stated by the Mayor that he was not asked what he thought about $1.50, that all propositions which he tried to advance were turned down by the council and that Berlin side was not getting its share of attention."

It is evident that in Alderman Deady, Montpelier has a willing worker and that he is just suffering for something to do. Our experience has been that city officials are not generally anxious to do more than what falls to them through the usual allotment. Therefore, Alderman Deady ought to be given a chance. Such a "tara avis" should not be overlooked.

VERMONT'S CLAIM TO THE CHAMPLAIN MEMORIAL.

In giving its opinion that the proposed Champlain memorial be erected on the Vermont side of Lake Champlain rather than on the New York side of the water, the Springfield Republican states that the lake appears to be more of a Vermont body of water than New York's, geographically and in point of interest taken by the inhabitants of the two states. The contemporary states that in seeking the boundary between the two states one finds the greater part of the lake, including all the larger islands, on the Vermont side; furthermore, New Yorkers have larger bodies of water, Lakes Erie and Ontario, in which they take a more vital interest than they do in Lake Champlain, whereas Vermonters turn naturally to Lake Champlain their largest stretch of water. Hence, concludes the contemporary, Lake Champlain seems more Vermont's than New York's and, therefore, Vermont is more entitled to the site of the proposed memorial to the man who discovered the lake.

There is one other reason, too, which gives Vermont a certain priority to the claim for the monument. That is the fact that Vermont was the first state to make a move toward having a grand celebration of the tercentenary of the lake's discovery, thus showing this state's keener interest in the matter. It was not until Vermont had set the ball a-rolling that New York enlisted her co-operation by a handsome appropriation to increase the magnitude of the observance. This initiative on the part of Vermont entitles her to more serious consideration as a claimant for the memorial location and ought to have considerable weight with the persons authorized to make the selection of a location.

CURRENT COMMENT

C. V. and Rutland Compared.

We have not hesitated to criticize our railroads when we believe they deserved criticism. We do not hesitate now to give the Central Vermont and the Rutland railroads full credit for making splendid preparations for the accommodation of the crowds expected in this city next week.—Burlington Free Press.

We are not familiar with how the Central Vermont panned out in the test when it came but the Rutland road did exceedingly well. It is inevitable that trains will be late on such an occasion. It is a physical impossibility for any railroad to take care of a hundred fold increase in traffic and get its trains in and out of stations as quickly as under normal conditions and it would be absurd to expect it but the Rutland road handled the business without accident and as promptly as was consistent with safety. There are some things about the Rutland road that we should like to see improved without additional expense and with advantage to the road and to the traveling public. At the same time we considered, as well managed a single track road as there is in the east and far away the best in Vermont.—Bennington Banner.

A Veto Unlikely.

Washington opinion assumes that President Taft will not veto any tariff bill which the two houses of Congress may agree upon. The business of the country is suffering because of the uncertainty of tariff legislation. Normal recovery from the depression is retarded by the anticipation of tariff changes. Almost any tariff bill would be preferable to continuance of the existing situation. Assurance that the Dingley bill would continue in uninterrupted operation would be good tidings for the nation if it were the alternative of the measure which is likely to be passed. If the Presidential veto would assure the continuance of the status quo of the Dingley law and freedom from tariff discussion for a reasonable time, the flood of petitions for a veto would be convincing. But the veto would have no positive force. It would prolong the agony of tariff uncertainty, if not by an indefinite extension of the present session, by a renewal of tariff tinkering at the regular session of Congress. The provision for the employment by the President of advisory tariff experts is a part of the tariff bill, and would be vetoed along with the rest of it. There would be no provision for reform in the methods of tariff legislation, nor is it likely that a veto would be productive of such progressive legislation.

The predictions made at Washington probably are right. There are some things worse than unjust schedules. The unpleasantness which will follow this spree of tariff revision may do the country good. Perhaps it will cure the nation of the habit and cause it to turn to other, business-like ways of tariff investigation and legislation. This experience may be convincing, and the President, by the proper use of his power in appointing a commission of tariff experts, may accomplish a reform in the methods of tariff-making. As a matter of fact, an unsatisfactory tariff bill is likely to be passed and will be signed by the President. And the wisest thing for genuine friends of tariff reform to do will be to recognize the fact that nothing but an unsatisfactory law can be expected from the present system of log-rolling, self-serving and compromise, which at present shapes one phase of the nation's fiscal policy. If the people will appreciate that the fault in the system is prior to and responsible for the faults in the schedule, even a dose of an Aldrich tariff may have its good effects. Before the nation demands another revision of the tariff schedules, it must revise its method of dealing with this problem.—Boston Herald.

JINGLES AND JESTS

Da Beega Man.

Da beega man I like for shave,
He always tak' my chair;
He som' tam spreenga joke weeth me
W'en I cut heesa hair.
He say, "I got no much hair,"
Weethout da smile or laugh,
"Yo have no right to charge me,"
He say, "but just a half."
I know he makea joke weeth me,
So w'en he come for shave,
I have a gooda one for heem,
One joke w'at I save.
I say to heem, "You face so beeg,
Can't shave for sama price;
Eet tak' so longa time for do
I have for chargea twice." —Boston Herald.

Neither Polite Nor Wise.

Mrs. Tellitt—It isn't polite to turn your back on people.
Tellitt—It isn't wise, either, unless you are sure that your dress is buttoned to the limit. Think that over. —Chicago News.

Then She'll Tell You.

"Tell me," said the lovelorn youth, "what's the best way to find out what a woman thinks of you?"
"Marry her," replied Peckam promptly. —Catholic Standard and Times.

A Straw Hat for every head, and a saving for every pocket.

Our Straw Hats must go. Saturday, July 17, every Straw Hat in our store, except Panamas, at

1-2 Price

All good style hats and perfect.

Panamas, 20 Per Cent Discount.

See Our Window.

Wash Suits, Play Suits, Boys' Oxfords, Outing Suits, etc., are now on the move here. We will not carry goods over.

F. H. ROGERS & CO.

174 North Main Street, Barre, Vt.

The N. D. Phelps company will sell refrigerators and oil stoves at greatly reduced prices.

Fenner's Highball, the best drink ever served at a fountain. At the Red Cross only, 5c.

BARGAINS Economy Sale BARGAINS
House Dresses and Wrappers

Tomorrow morning we begin a sale that will surely create the liveliest selling of the season. We purchased this lot at a big concession and are going to have you share in this money saving opportunity. One-piece House Dresses, not a garment in the lot worth less than $1.39, Economy Price, 98c. Two-piece House Dresses, would be big value at $1.29, Economy Price, 95c. We offer 25 dozen Wrappers—only high-grade Percales and Gingham are used in our House Dresses and Wrappers, no cheap red or blue prints in this lot, 85c, 95c, $1.00, worth from $1.25 to $1.69. Waist Specials—this is no clean-up sale, not a soiled Waist in the lot. We have received a new shipment of Linen Waists. Great many more new styles added to our former ones. Just to introduce them we place on sale Saturday afternoon and evening Embroidered Linen Waists, former price $3.25, sale price $2.50; Tailored Linen, former price $2.95, for Saturday only $2.25. Ten dozen fine Lingerie Waists, actual value $2.00, for Saturday only 95c each.

Paris Shirt Waist House,
159 No. Main Street, - - - Over Peoples Shoe Store

Barre Savings Bank and Trust Co.

INTEREST RATES

Which is Better,

$2000, at 3 per cent interest for 1 year, earning $60.45?

$2000, at 3 1-2 per cent interest for 1 year, earning $70.60?

—OR—

$2000, at 4 per cent interest for 1 year, earning $80.80?

Difference in favor of 4 per cent rate over 3

per cent rate - - - - - $20.35?

Difference in favor of 4 per cent rate over 3 1-2

per cent rate - - - - - $10.20?

Which Income Do You Prefer?

4 per cent Interest paid on savings accounts credited April 1 and October 1.

BEN. A. EASTMAN, PRES.

F. G. HOWLAND, TREAS.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Mrs. James Cheney, who for more than two years has been helpless as the result of a shock, has gone to the home for cripples connected with the State Hospital at Waterbury.

Mrs. H. A. Downs is returning to her home in Oil City, Penn.

A party of ladies, consisting of Miss Mary Waltemann, Miss Lucy White and Mrs. D. H. Strong have gone to the northern part of the state for an outing.

Things are assuming a business air at "Williamstown Inn" and landlord Leffingwell will be kept busy as the season advances.

Try those "lunkers" again in the deep, dark waters of Lynde pond one week from today, and you may land one of them.

The addition to the residence of Lewis M. Seaver is fast nearing completion. Improvements of this character add much to the village besides an indication of thrift and progress.

Grange meeting and Sociable tomorrow (Saturday) evening. Ice cream, cake etc., will be served. All come and enjoy a social evening.

Mrs. Mary Folsom has had a sudden and severe attack of illness.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning the subject of the sermon will be "Reflections from the Temple Pinnacle." In the evening all attend the union service at the Methodist church.

WOLCOTT.

Marriage of Miss Lura Willis to C. S. Quimby on Wednesday.

Wednesday at four o'clock at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Willis occurred the marriage of their daughter, Lura, to C. S. Quimby. The bride's father performed the ceremony. They were unattended. Miss Gertrude Davis played the wedding march. The bride is one of the most estimable young ladies being a graduate of Peoples Academy in the class of 1908, and has taught a number of successful terms of school in this town. The groom is one of our promising young men now located at St. Albans Hay as pastor of the Methodist church there. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them. Those from out of town to attend the wedding were the bride's brothers Ernest and daughter and Charles and wife of Providence, R. I. A reception was given Wednesday evening at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Willis, which was greatly enjoyed by old and young.

Frank Tutthill is visiting in Malone, N. Y.

S. A. Fife is attending court at Hyde Park this week.

Warner Nelson of Boston was a recent visitor at A. W. Foster's.

H. L. McAnulan and family of Providence, R. I. are guests at J. T. Hubbells. Uncle Nathaniel Jones left Thursday for a week's visit with relatives in Lowell and Boston.

Dan Potter is taking a month's vacation from driving the cream team on account of ill health.

Mid-Summer Sale
Ready-to-Wear Garments

Colored Waists, 49c and 79c each.

White Waists, 98c and $1.25 up.

Jumper Suits, $1.00, 1.25, 1.98 up.

$4.00 Dresses, white, blue and pink, $2.98 each.

House Dresses, two-piece, $1.25 each.

House Dresses in one-piece, $1.25 each.

Tub Skirts, white and colored, $1.25 up.

Second Floor—Muslin Underwear, Corsets, Skirts, Children's Dresses and Headwear.

Go On Sale Thursday Morning

Dimity Cord Wash Muslins, at 5c yard.

12 1-2 and 15c Kimono Lawns for 8c yard.

25c Cotton Voile, balance in stock, at 10c yard.

25c White Dimities, checks, at 15c yard.

25c Silk Mull, white and colored, 15c yard.

25c White Dotted Swiss Muslin, 15c yard.

25c popular Wash Suitings, at 19c yard.

19c Galatea, for Suits, new patterns, 15c yard.

15c Boys' and Girls' Hose, all sizes, 9c pair.

Ladies' Tan Lace Hose, reduced to 10c pair.

See counter in rear of store for sale of Bleached Cotton Cloth, it will pay you.

Don't miss our July Sale of Ladies' Furnishings on second floor.

The Vaughan Store

"Sectional Book Cases"

Another shipment of Casler Sectional Book Cases. We think these are as good as there are made, and the price always sells them. $2.75 section, with glass doors.

Also Roll Top Desks, Type Writer Tables, Office Chairs, etc.

Let Us Show You.

A. W. BADGER & CO., MORSE BLOCK, BARRE, VERMONT

Funeral Directors. Licensed Embalmers.
Residence Calls: 11 Eastern Avenue and 110 Seminary Street.
Telephone: Store, 447-41. House, 447-21 and 448-4.
COMFORTABLE AMBULANCE AT A MOMENT'S NOTICEOXFORDS AT COST

Our Snappy Fall Goods have begun to arrive and we must make room on our shelves. Beginning

Friday, July 16, 1909

all our Low Shoes will be sold regardless of cost.

This includes our entire stock of Gun Metal, Velour, Vici Kid, Patent Leather and Russia Calf Oxfords.

WOMEN'S		MEN'S
$3.50 Uts & Dunn, at... $2.65		$5.00 Hurley, at.....	$3.98
3.00 Uts & Dunn, at... 2.35		4.00 Ludgate, at.....	3.29
3.50 Revelation, at.... 2.85		3.50 Packard, at.....	2.89
3.00 Revelation, at.... 2.45		3.50 Douglas, at.....	2.89
2.50 Boardman & Beaute 1.85		3.50 O'Donnell, at....	2.79
2.00 all makes, at..... 1.65		3.00 Packard, at.....	2.59
1.75 all makes, at..... 1.45		3.00 Douglas, at.....	2.59
1.50 all makes, at..... 1.29		2.50 Russia, at.....	1.89

SEE THE BARGAIN TABLE.

Geo. N. Tilden

Wood Block, Barre, Vermont.

$59.00

This Surrey is light, it has Sarven wheels, it has wide roomy seats, it is low down. It is a bargain for the price.

COLTON,
Vehicles and Harness, Montpelier, Vt.